4. discuss one way in which this provides adherence to the Officers Code of Ethics.

Submission Requirements
- Your well-written paper should be 4-6 pages in length not including the required cover and references pages.
- Support your paper with at least 4-6 scholarly references (of which the textbook may be one). The CSU-Global Library is a good place to find these references.
- Format your paper according to the CSU-Global Guide to Writing & APA.

Option #2: Entrapment, or not?

Assume that you are a police officer. Your assignment is to impersonate an individual that seeks to buy narcotics from a dealer in order to arrest the dealer engaging in the transaction. This dealer is known to be trafficking... large amounts of narcotics, but he has eluded arrest for quite some time. After months of transactions caught on video surveillance, you successfully arrest the dealer. In the trial that follows, his attorney argues this was entrapment. In your paper, discuss whether this was or was not entrapment. In your argument you must address the following (but you may add to these questions if you wish):

1. What is entrapment, specifically?
2. What are the conditions that must be met for entrapment?
3. In what ways does this scenario meet/not meet the criterion for entrapment?
4. If it does not meet the criterion for entrapment, what elements are needed?

Submission Requirements:
- Your well-written paper should be 4-6 pages in length not including the required cover and references pages.
- Support your paper with at least 4-6 scholarly references (of which the textbook may be one). The CSU-Global Library is a good place to find these references.

Choose one of the following two assignments to complete this week. Do not do both assignments. Identify your assignment choice in the title of your submission.

Option #1: Ethics of Data Privacy
In 2015, terrorists attacked in San Bernardino, CA. FBI agents recovered a cell phone used by one of the terrorists. The FBI was not able to access the information on the phone because it was locked with a 4-digit passcode. Apple refused to create software that would help the FBI unlock the phone citing issues of privacy and security.

Apple stated, “if the FBI made it easier to unlock your iPhone, it would have the power to reach into anyone’s device to capture their data.” Is there a point at which we should be willing to give up our privacy? Should cell phone carriers be required to unlock phones for criminal investigations without a person’s consent?

Submission Requirements
- Your well-written paper should be 4-6 pages in length not including the required cover and references pages.
- Support your paper with at least 4-6 scholarly references (of which the textbook may be one). The CSU-Global Library is a good place to find these references.
- Format your paper according to the CSU-Global Guide to Writing & APA.

Option #2: Ethical Issues and Excessive Caseloads
Public defenders have long labored with excessive caseloads while being under-funded. Some have argued that this presents an unethical conflict of interest. In what ways do you believe this to be an ethical conflict? In your discussion you also address the following:

1. What is the responsibility of the defense attorney to the client?
2. Are there specific ethical requirements you believe exist for the defense attorney?
3. What ethical conflicts arise when the public defender has an excessive caseload (i.e., quality of representation; rigorous defense of client’s case, etc.)?

Submission Requirements
• Your well-written paper should be 4-6 pages in length not including the required cover and references pages.
• Support your paper with at least 4-6 scholarly references (of which the textbook may be one). The CSU-Global Library is a good place to find these references.
• Format your paper according to the CSU-Global Guide to Writing & APA.

Portfolio Milestone (10 points)

Option #2: Downsizing Prisons
In the 1970s the United States prison population increased as a result of a belief that incarceration improves public safety. This continued until the 1990s when politicians told the public that if we didn’t build more prisons we would have to tolerate increased rates of violent crime. As a result of prison over-crowding, the politicians are now seeking ways to reduce the prison population without endangering the public.

In 2006, California Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger proclaimed the prison system to be in an Overcrowding State of Emergency such that health and safety was reaching a critical concern. The Supreme Court ruled in Brown v. Plata (2011) that the prison population was to be reduced by 137%, or 33,000 inmates at the time.

Please read the article below (linked in the assignment) on downsizing prisons and answer the following questions.
1. Do you agree with the premise that prisons increase public safety?
2. Do you agree with the court’s mandate to reduce the prison population so drastically in such a short period of time? Can this be done without endangering public safety?

Submission Requirements:
- Your well-written paper should be 4-6 pages in length not including the required cover and references pages.
- Support your paper with at least 4-6 scholarly references (of which the textbook may be one). The CSU-Global Library is a good place to find these references.
- Format your paper according to the CSU-Global Guide to Writing & APA.

Submission Requirements:
- Your well-written paper should be 4-6 pages in length not including the required cover and references pages.

Apply what you’ve learned in this course to an analysis of a canon or code of ethics for a criminal justice agency. The Canon of Ethics is a code for employee behavior and conduct.

Include in your paper the following:

- the mission statement of the agency;
- your evaluation of how the agency screens for ethical employees (i.e., background check, polygraph examinations, third-party contract, psychological exams, etc.);

Apply at least one ethical theory or approach covered in this course in your critical/evaluative response;
- provide an example (within the last 5 years) and a critique of how the agency has acted in a way that you believe to be in violation of its code of ethics; and
- select a canon/code and discuss the ethical foundations forming at least eight of its sections (also called canons or articles).

Include in your paper:
● the name of the two agencies;
● the mission statements of the two agencies;

● compare/contrast how the agencies might interact with each other or with similar criminal justice agencies; and
● compare/contrast how the agencies might handle a) ethics governing police conduct (such as apprehension and control of suspects); b) solicitation of confessions, managing evidence, or related topics; and c) gifts, favors, gratuities, etc.

Submission Requirements:
● Your well-written plan should be 10-12 pages in length, not including the required title or references pages. Headings and sub-headings may help you organize your work.
● Include at least 10-12 academic or other legitimate sources to support your findings, not including your textbook. The CSU-Global Library can help you with finding quality resources.
● Review the Portfolio grading rubric, which can be accessed from the Module 8 folder.
